Human Security Baseline Assessment (HSBA) project

The Sudan Human Security Baseline Assessment (HSBA) publishes its findings regularly in two separate formats, Issue Briefs and Working Papers. Issue Briefs are concise, policy-relevant analyses of research findings; Working Papers provide in-depth research and analysis. Both are based on original field research and extensive consultations with experts. All are available in English and Arabic at www.smallarmssurveysudan.org.

Please also visit our 'Sudan Facts and Figures' web resource for concise, field-based updates on a variety of subjects including armed groups, arms flows and holdings, and the Darfur peace process, at www.smallarmssurveysudan.org/facts-figures.php.

About the HSBA

The Sudan Human Security Baseline Assessment (HSBA) is a multi-year project administered by the Small Arms Survey. It has been developed in cooperation with the Canadian government, the United Nations Mission in Sudan (UNMIS), the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), and a wide array of international and Sudanese NGO partners. Through the active generation and dissemination of timely, empirical research the project supports violence reduction initiatives, including disarmament, demobilization, and reintegration programmes, incentive schemes for civilian arms collection, as well as security sector reform and arms control interventions across Sudan. The HSBA also offers policy-relevant advice on redressing insecurity.

The HSBA receives direct financial support from the UK Government Global Conflict Prevention Pool, the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Netherlands Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the US Department of State, and the National Endowment for Democracy. It has received support in the past from Danish Demining Group, the Danish International Development Agency (Danida), and the Global Peace and Security Fund at Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada.
